

Guiding Entrepreneurs to the next level.

Glenn Yonemitsu, MBA, CMC

Glenn has worked with the leadership teams of turnaround and high growth, mid-market companies to help achieve their corporation's growth potential since 1989. Clients have included closely-held, high-growth, mid-market firms in various industries.

Glenn's experiences have been broad and varied - ideal for the cross-enterprise nature of the mid-market firm. His focus is on helping entrepreneurial organizations make the leap to the next growth curve.

Prior to founding NEXT, Glenn served in leadership roles at the Richard Ivey School of Business and in various roles at major Financial Institutions.

Glenn authors a regular column, "Case Study", in Ivey's award winning magazine, InTouch, which challenges readers to think how they would manage through a complex management dilemma.

He has served on boards and advisory boards of entrepreneurial firms and also, on the boards of not-for-profit community organizations.

Glenn completed his undergraduate degree at The University of Western Ontario, earned an MBA from the Richard Ivey School of Business, and is a Certified Management Consultant (Canadian Association of Management Consultants).

He is married with two active sons. He loves sports and wishes he could be a better athlete in hockey, golf and running.

Canadian Association of Management Consultants

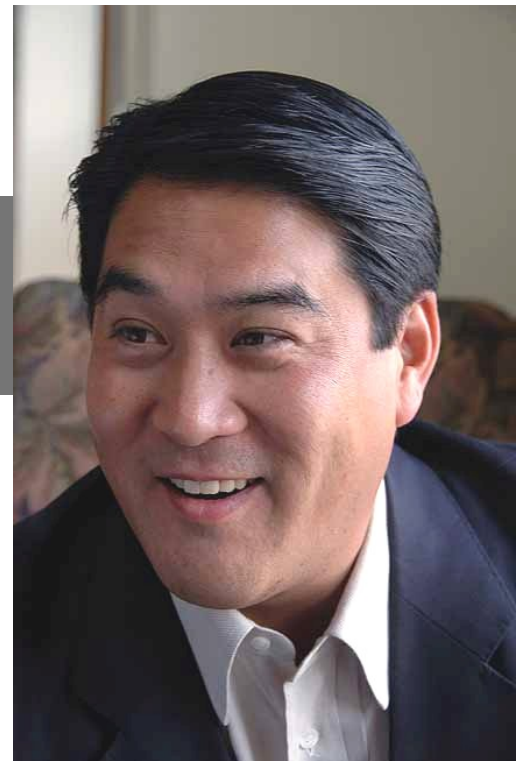

The Certified Management Consultant (CMC) designation is the profession's only international certification mark, recognized in 43 countries. It represents a commitment to the highest standards of consulting and adherence to the ethical canons of the profession. The Canadian Association of Management Consultants administers the CMC designation in Canada. For more information, please visit www.cmc-canada.ca

As a member of the Canadian Association of Management Consultants, NEXT Strategic Advisors adheres to the Association's Uniform Code of Professional Conduct.
